Dear Dr. Lacombe,

Good grief, how the years rush by. Thank you for the two reprints; one on the anatomy of Chelonibia patula and testudinaria, the other on Balanus amphitrite as an indicator of pollution.

All goes well here as I hope it does for you. I see you are now in Rio but I threw out the envelope for the reprints before realizing I might be throwing out your full address. So I took the address off the reprints and hope this letter gets to you.

Best wishes for the New Year,

Sincerely yours,

W. Newman
